

Addendum to Letter dated 03.04.20

Dear Carers/Parents

I have caused some false hope in my letter sent to you earlier today.

Apologies!

In the letter I said:

"We are just an email away, or a phone call to school when we return on Monday 20th April."

As things currently stand, the 'we' in the 'when we return to school' refers to staff only.

Unless the government makes a decision otherwise (in which case you will know this at the same time we do because it will be announced on TV), then we expect to continue with how things have been since the 31st March, with school running for just a few children and staff on a rota system.

Whilst I know you love them dearly, I can also appreciate you are keen to see them back in school, so I'm sorry once again for any confusion caused!

Mr Elms
